Share your ICDL stories and partnerships with the wider ICDL community

Do you have an interesting story on ICDL delivery in your country or a new partnership that you would like to share? Sharing your experiences via this newsletter and on the ICDL Europe website is a valuable way to support fellow national operators. Allow us to showcase the diverse strategies and practical implementations of ICDL throughout the region for the interest and benefit of this community. Some examples may be suitable to also include in the global References brochure. To share a story, please email customersupport@icdleurope.org.
